Unique opportunity to own a grand Colonial revival estate in Alamo Square. This mansion offers almost 6,000 Sq. Ft. of living space on an oversized lot near the park and Hayes Valley. Designed by architect Pissis and Moore and built in 1894, the main house stands four stories proud with Victorian character and workmanship. Select features include beautiful inlaid oak floors, 12 Ft. ceilings, decadent chandeliers, and ceiling medallions plus gorgeous fireplaces. Each room has tremendous scale from the huge kitchen to the enormous master bedroom suite. Three formal bedrooms, all ensuite, are on the third floor and rooms on the 4th floor (a legal unit itself with separate entry) make an ideal office/incubator. The ground floor could be a family room and/or au pair quarters. A private 1-bed cottage is separated from the main house by a wonderful outdoor garden. The pergola covered patio includes a gas fire pit and outdoor chef's kitchen! See the video for more details of this amazing property.
